

The Long Now is a three piece band from Ithaca, NY, playing instrumental music composed by guitarist Ryan Vanderhoof and arranged with drummer Matt Saccuccimorano and bassist Brian Dozoretz.

The trio formed in early 2019 and quickly amassed a lengthy set of original material that is at its core richly melodic, nuanced, diverse in color, form and 'texture', while maintaining a thread of spontaneity and creative introspection throughout. Influences range from the innovators of early jazz and 19th century classical music, through and to contemporary voices of today in jazz, classical, rock and popular music.
